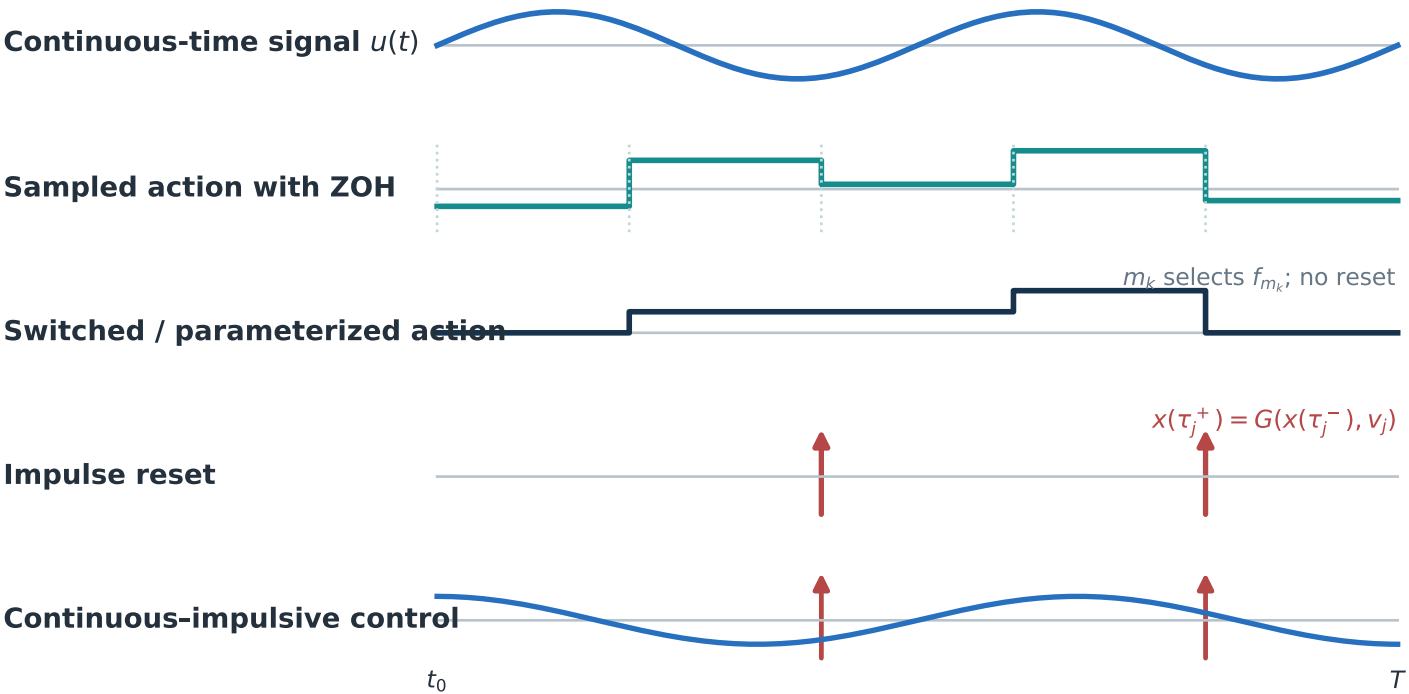
Control timing and state effects

Decision timing, action-value domain and state effect are separate classification axes.



A continuous-valued sampled action may still be piecewise constant in time.