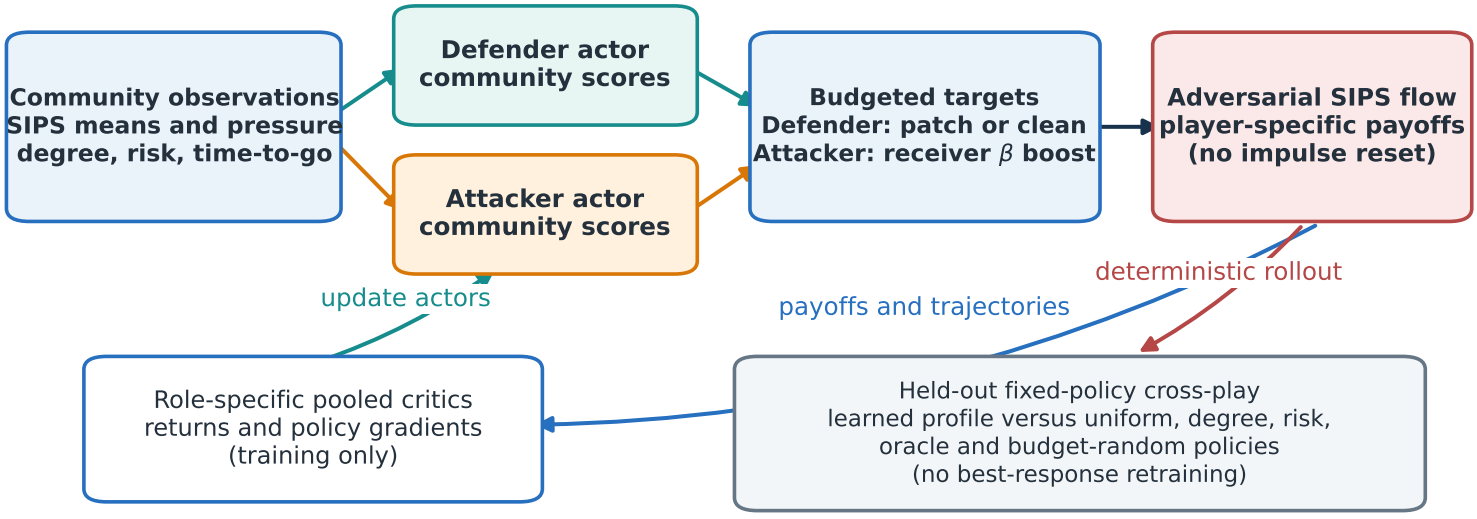
Attacker–defender actor-critic and fixed-policy cross-play

Separate actors select target communities; the environment maps those targets to fixed sampled-flow interventions.



Cross-play is evaluation evidence, not an exploitability estimate or proof of Nash equilibrium.